Pollution can come from nature, but is also produced by humans. It is a problem that requires rapid solutions, both within Australia and internationally, due to the growing human population and the increase in size of cities. Pollution In Australia explores the problem, as well as explaining the steps that need to be taken to combat it.

- Informative and comprehensive text with photographs
- An overview of different types of pollution and what is being done
- Fact boxes
- A glossary and an index

SERIES ENGINEERING MARVELS OF AUSTRALIA

GENRE	STEM
AGE RANGE	MIDDLE TO UPPER PRIMARY
CURRICULUM	DESIGN AND TECHNOLOGY
IMPRINT	REDBACK
ARRP	$19.99
FORMAT	Paperback, 32 pages, 270x215mm

Engineering Marvels of Australia tells the stories of the design and construction of some of Australia's major feats of engineering. Some of Australia's bridges, hydro-electric power stations, railways and communications structures were built at times when much of the technology we take for granted today was not available. Many represented the latest in design and technology when they were built.

- Why these structures were built and how they were built
- What life was like in Australia at the time
- The conditions for workers on the projects
- The structures today
- The technology used on the projects

ARRP	$39.99
FORMAT	Hardback, 104 pages, 235x160mm

Meet the science experts who study specimens of extreme longevity in both the plant and animal kingdoms, such as the 80,000-year-old root system of Pando (a colony of male quaking aspens), 11,000-year-old deep-sea sponges, and 400-year-old sharks. Learn about technologies used to determine age and longevity, including DNA sampling, growth rings, and radiocarbon dating. See how scientists located these long-lived species where, why and how they resist disease and aging. And delve into how scientists are using what they know about aged plants and animals to research how we can promote longevity in humans.
